The Ohio Living Will Declaration, which may also be known as an "Advance Directive"™, allows a person to specify their own wishes and desires with how they would like their medical team or their Attorney in Fact/Agent to be honored. The document will provide specific instructions with regard to how the Declarant would like to be treated when there are no other medical options for them to recover to an acceptable (to the Declarant) quality of life.

A Living Will should address these 3 topics, as they are the most common and difficult issues that arise during a person's life-ending condition: Life Support; Life-Sustaining Treatment; End of Life Wishes; How to Make a Living Will. A living will can be created by an individual within one (1) day.
