the New Testament has no eschatology because it pertains to the end of the Old Testament, not to the end of the New. Naturally, since the apostolic writings took place during the time of fulfillment they contained a "future" perspective, but it never extended beyond the full end or consummation of the Jewish age.

An archive is an accumulation of historical records or the physical place they are located. Archives contain primary source documents that have accumulated over the course of an individual or organization's lifetime, and are kept to show the function of that person or organization. Professional archivists and historians generally understand archives to be records that have been naturally and ...
