While women in Japan were recognized as having equal legal rights to men after World War II, economic conditions for women remain unbalanced. Modern policy initiatives to encourage motherhood and workplace participation have had mixed results. While a high percentage of Japanese women are college graduates, making up 77% of the part-time work force, they typically earn 27% less than their male ...

Menopause affects every woman differently. Recent studies suggest that women who are overweight or obese, are African-American, or who smoke may get more severe symptoms or symptoms that last longer than other women. 1 But, some women have no symptoms or their symptoms are very mild. Other women get symptoms that affect several areas of their lives.
