In today's post I focus on ideas and resources for teaching trigonometry. A recent conversation with a student made me aware that I need to change my approach to teaching this topic. I'm sure you'll agree that this is a rather convoluted method. At some point (I suspect from a previous private tutor ...

The hazards of gas service were already well known in the 19th century, when many cities built their first gas distribution systems. Gas in those days was not "natural" gas; it was a product manufactured by roasting coal, or sometimes the tarry residue of petroleum refining, in an atmosphere depleted of oxygen.
